Duck Race Kickoff Party – 6/6

Join CFPA at Kelleher’s Irish Pub & Eatery at 619 SW Water St, Peoria, IL 61602 on Thursday, June 6 from 6:00–9:00 p.m. for the annual Duck Race Kickoff Party. Kelleher’s will close down a block of Water Street for the duration of the outdoor event. Ducks are available for adoption beginning at the kickoff party and will “be buy one, get one free” while supplies last that evening. The event will feature an appearance and photo opportunity with the Duck Race mascot Quacky, Race and CFPA merchandise for sale. Snacks and drinks will also be available for purchase.

31st Annual Duck Race – 8/24

The Duck Race is CFPA’s signature fundraiser. The success of the Race is essential in raising funds to help all people live free from violence and abuse. CFPA’s Duck Race is the longest-running Duck Race in history and this year, we celebrate the 31st anniversary. On August 24, we will once again have 30,000 rubber ducks race down a giant water slide in East Peoria and the first 31 ducks to cross the finish line win a prize for their owner. Prizes range from a cash grand prize to overnight hotel stays, travel packages, fine jewelry, gift cards, furniture, and more. Ducks are available for sponsorship beginning June 6 at the kickoff party. Stay tuned for more information or reach out to CFPA’s Marketing team at 309-691-0551.
Namasté is a beautiful sounding word that rolls off the tongue, but its meaning is even more lovely. It is pronounced nah-muh-stay, and wrapped in this three syllable word from ancient Sanskrit language is a number of impressions that are the essence of humanity. It is a greeting and also a customary farewell. It is often said with an acknowledgement of oneness – what affects you also affects me. It is a sign of respect. But its intrinsic value is a noble act of humility; it is gratitude.

“Cultivate the habit of being grateful for every good thing that comes to you, and to give thanks continuously. And because all things have contributed to your advancement, you should include all things in your gratitude.”

— Ralph Waldo Emerson

Most of us associate gratitude with saying “thank you” to someone who has come to our aid or perhaps given us a gift. However, gratitude is not a verb or an action word. Instead, gratitude is a positive emotion, which is important because it serves a purpose. Gratitude is more than feeling thankful for something; it is a deeper appreciation, which produces a longer-lasting positive effect.

At the Center for Prevention of Abuse, many of our departments start their staff meetings asking their teams, “What went right this week?” or “What are you grateful for?” Abuse is a dark topic and if we’re not careful and extremely mindful, our work family could get lost in that darkness. It is imperative that we regularly acknowledge each other in a way that says, “We know you do hard and meaningful work, and we also realize the pain that can bring. We appreciate you.” We must take the time to remind ourselves that we are deeply grateful for the people around us, the work we do, and the hope that results.

We are grateful for our clients and our guests in our two emergency shelters, that they have discovered their voice, their courage, and found their way to CFPA. We appreciate the opportunity to make a difference in their lives, especially during their time of crisis. We are thankful for the highly skilled members of our team who care for the survivors of interpersonal violence who reach out for recovery and peace. We are grateful for the education that CFPA staff provides and how it helps prevent abuse. We are gratified by the flow of innovative ideas that allows CFPA to grow and serve in new ways, to new people, like never before. We are indebted to our partners, and the support of organizations and especially people like you. We are lifted up daily by powerful words of encouragement and the financial gifts that allow us to continue to pursue CFPA’s mission of helping all people live free from violence and abuse.

I believe there is a spark within each of us that encourages us to acknowledge when we are grateful that someone is in our life. To you, I say that we, at CFPA, recognize your commitment to the cause, and we have tremendous gratitude that you are helping us create not just success, but significance.

Namasté,
Sexual Assault affects all survivors in deep and long lasting ways. Everything about a person’s life changes after being sexually assaulted. Their feelings about safety, self-esteem, body image, and every current or future relationship have been suddenly altered. It has long been CFPA’s goal to help all survivors as they make their way on their healing journey. This year, we are hosting a special event to start the conversation to understand, discuss, share, and learn how sexual violence affects members of the LGBTQ+ community. We know that those identifying as lesbian, gay, or bisexual experience sexual violence at similar or higher rates than straight individuals.

One in ten LGBTQ+ survivors of intimate partner violence has experienced sexual assault from those partners, and studies suggest that around half of transgender individuals and bisexual women will experience sexual violence at some point in their lifetimes.

We know there are factors that place members of the LGBTQ+ community at a higher risk for experiencing sexual assault, such as experiencing higher rates of homelessness, hate-motivated violence, and the stigma and marginalization attached to one’s identity. We would like to learn more about how sexual violence affects LGBTQ+ survivors and what specific needs you might have after experiencing sexual assault or abuse. We know some common reactions to trauma for all survivors include fear, embarrassment, self-blame, guilt, and anger, but we would also like to discuss what is unique to your experience.

We understand that disclosing the violence that you have experienced and seeking help may be difficult. Fear of judgement and discrimination may be everyday realities for you. We want you to know that you are believed, supported, and welcome to all services that the Center for Prevention of Abuse provides. We are your ally. We look forward to sharing some ideas of how to be a great ally, and we are interested in hearing your thoughts about what you need from the allies in your lives.

Note: On April 25th, we hosted our first discussion about the LGBTQ+ community and sexual violence and are planning to have many more in the future. Please join the discussion. For more information about future roundtable discussions or how to start the conversation, please contact Julie Boland at jboland@centerforpreventionofabuse.org or 309-691-0551.
Meeting State Mandates
On January 24, 2013, Governor Pat Quinn signed into law “Erin’s Law,” which requires all Illinois schools to provide age-appropriate child sexual abuse prevention education for students Pre-K through 12th grade annually. The goal is to empower children with their voice and to give them the tools to be able to tell an adult about an unwanted or unsafe touch right away, instead of being silenced by their perpetrator (www.erinslaw.org).

CFPA’s “Keeping My Body Safe” curriculum fulfills this state mandate by providing sexual abuse education to students in classrooms across the Tri-County Area, staff training on sexual abuse prevention, and parent education on sexual abuse warning signs and services CFPA provides.

Curriculum Details
Keeping My Body Safe is a unique body safety and abuse prevention program serving school aged children Pre-K through 12th grade and explores the differences between normal physical contact (safe touches) and child sexual abuse (unsafe touches). Each individual presentation is based on the four body safety rules, “Say No, Get Away, Tell Someone, and Be Believed,” and helps children identify safe adults to talk to if they are in danger or experiencing abuse. Once the 30–60 minute age specific body-safety programs are completed, the students will have received the prevention education required by “Erin’s Law.”

Body Safety Rules
• Say NO! In a strong, assertive voice
• Get Away! To a safe space where others can help
• Tell Someone! A safe, trusted adult (someone 16 years or older)
• Be Believed! Keep telling trusted adults until someone helps

Private Body Parts Rule
No one should ask to see or touch the areas of your body where your swimsuit covers unless they are helping you to be CLEAN or HEALTHY. The other part of the Private Body Parts Rule says that no one else should ask you to see or touch the areas of your body where their swimsuit covers.

For more information about programming or professional training, please contact CFPA’s Director of Prevention Education, Laura Kowalske, at lkowalske@centerforpreventionofabuse.org or 309-691-0551.
The relationship between a cosmetologist and his or her client is unique. It is a personal connection, one that has gone through many of life’s milestones: weddings, the birth of children, divorce, and new beginnings.

While a bruise on the scalp or a missing chunk of hair may not be visible to the outside world, it can alert the cosmetologist to a serious issue, an issue wherein 3 women in the US are murdered every day by their intimate partner. That’s 93 women every month (2017, The Violence Policy Center).

One in three women and one in seven men will experience domestic violence in their lifetimes. In an effort to raise awareness and educate professionals about available resources, Illinois is the first state in the nation to pass legislation that requires a one-hour, one-time Continuing Education (CE) course on domestic violence for all cosmetologists, cosmetology teachers, estheticians, esthetic teachers, hair braiders, hair braiding teachers, nail technicians, and nail technology teachers.

The law passed in 2017 and is a two-year renewal cycle. The CE requirement is in effect for the September 2019 renewals for cosmetologists and estheticians.

September 2020: Cosmetology teachers and esthetic teachers

October 2020: Nail technicians, nail technology teachers, hair braiders, and hair braiding teachers

The Center for Prevention of Abuse received accreditation from the State of Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation to be a provider of the mandated training and began offering the training on March 24, 2019. Multiple trainings will be scheduled through August in order to meet the need of Central Illinois cosmetologists and estheticians.

Registration and online payment are easily accessible at www.centerforpreventionofabuse.org.

The nominal fee helps to support CFPA services. If you don’t have access to a computer, you simply need call and we will register you.

On a personal note, I am thrilled to be the trainer for these sessions; my first career was as a cosmetologist and I firmly believe that all those years of doing hair are what propelled me to begin college at age 40. I know the close bond that clients have with their stylist, manicurist, esthetician; I know that my clients confided in me and trusted that I would keep their information confidential. While there is no mandate to report domestic violence, an increased awareness about the indicators and how to proceed when a client discloses can save a life.

When I think back on my early career, as a naive 20 year old, I can honestly say I wish I knew then what I know now about domestic violence. After 23 years at CFPA, it is my pleasure to share my knowledge with my peers.

At the Center for Prevention of Abuse, we are so thankful for the community support received through donations. We want you to know exactly where your money goes and how it impacts the lives of all who come to us seeking peace.

$5 could provide personal hygiene products for one person staying in our emergency shelter

$10 could provide fresh produce for a week’s worth of healthy meals for a family in our emergency shelter

$25 could provide a gas card to help outreach clients get to and from appointments with our counselors

$50 could help survivors afford their monthly medications

$100 could cover the cost of one hour-long classroom presentation on violence prevention education

$350 could cover the cost of our 24/7 crisis hotline operation for one day

$500 could provide funding for an Adult Protective Services caseworker to investigate possible abuse in the home of an elderly individual

$1,000 could provide six hours of language translation for a trafficking survivor whose native language is not English

$2,500 could provide one month in safe shelter for an individual fleeing a violent or abusive situation

$5,000 could provide two months of therapy for one sexual assault survivor

$10,000 could cover the cost of Safe From the Start for one month, a violence intervention program for children ages 0–5 who have witnessed or experienced an act of violence at home or in the community

Give the gift of peace today by making a monetary donation. Donations can be designated to specific services or as a general donation.

Honorariums and Memorials
Honorariums may be made to celebrate a special occasion and memorials may be given to acknowledge a lost friend or loved one.

Stock, Real Estate, and Insurance Policies
Donations can be made in the form of capital assets.

Donations that Leave a Legacy
Remembering CFPA in your estate plans can save and change lives for many years to come. A bequest can be designated to a certain program of CFPA or used at CFPA’s discretion. However, if a donor wishes, a bequest can be designated to one of two endowment funds. The Slane Endowment Fund supports the general operations of CFPA and the McPheeters Endowment Fund supports the Prevention Education program.

For more information about monetary donations, honorariums, memorials, capital assets, and legacy donations, please call 309-691-0551.
What an incredible season we had this year for our Adopt Our Families Campaign. This year we were able to provide gifts to nearly 70 families, all of our shelter residents, all of our apartment tenants, and were even able to share some of the wealth with Friendship House. We cannot thank all of our generous donors and volunteers enough for their outpouring of gifts, monetary donations, and their precious time. We could not do the things we do without you!

When someone presents as a victim of domestic violence or sexual abuse/assault in local emergency departments, the hospital calls CFPA for a medical advocate. Our medical advocates go to the hospital to assist with the individual’s immediate needs and provide information about their rights as a victim. CFPA is currently in need of second and third shift volunteers.
On Saturday, 4/13, CFPA hosted its 2nd annual “I Run With Survivors” 5K run/1 mile walk in honor of Sexual Assault Awareness Month! Thank you to all of our supporters who joined us in their teal shirts and teal shoelaces for a beautiful morning of raising awareness about sexual assault and supporting survivors in our community. Special thanks to ShaZam Racing, the City of East Peoria, the East Peoria Chamber of Commerce, and our media sponsors for contributing to a successful event!

Thank you to our generous sponsors who underwrote the cost of this event! Thanks to their support, 100% of the funds raised from registration for the run/walk and additional event donations go directly to client services.

Joyce DeRenzy
Chief Operating Officer

For the last 23 years, Joyce DeRenzy has been a role-model for everyone at CFPA. We would like to give a sincere thank you for everything she has done for clients, employees, and the agency as a whole, and a huge congratulations on her retirement from her role as Chief Operating Officer in May.

Clayton Frankel (CF): When did you start working at CFPA?

Joyce DeRenzy (JD): I started working in August 1996.

CF: What has been your favorite part about working at CFPA?

JD: I have loved mentoring new staff, meeting new people, and helping spread the word about CFPA’s services.

CF: Any milestones you are particularly proud of, for yourself or the agency?

JD: By partnering with the University of Illinois College of Medicine, the agency received a grant towards CFPA services. I was a helping hand in developing an OSCE (Observed Standardized Clinical Exam), which is still conducted quarterly at the JUMP Center for medical residents. During my time as Director of Adult Protective Services, I implemented the very first Elder Abuse Fatality Review Team in Central Illinois, which is still in existence today. Additionally, I served as the trainer for a series of Aging Sensitivity trainings which were held across the state.

There is so much more I am proud of about my own accomplishments and what CFPA has done over the years, but those are just a few things that stick out in my mind.

CF: When you’re not being a beacon of light at CFPA, what do you like to do for fun? Any hobbies?

JD: I am really a Type A personality, so I am rarely not in motion doing something! I try to go to the pool three times a week. If I were given the gift of time, I would craft endlessly, read, and spend as much time outside as possible. I am also competitive and pretty much love all types of games, whether they be board games or computer games. It seems as if my list of things I like to do is endless!

CF: How does it feel to celebrate your retirement?

JD: It’s a multitude of emotions: scary, sad, happy, and bittersweet, but I am ready to start a new chapter of my life.

CF: Anything else you’d like to add about your time at CFPA?

JD: I truly believe I was destined to be at CFPA and I couldn’t imagine working anywhere else for the last 23 years. I have served in a variety of roles and have learned so many life lessons. I love CFPA, it’s philosophy, mission, culture, and above all else, the CFPA family!
In honor of National Volunteer Week April 7–13, CFPA would like to recognize one of the agency’s dedicated and warm-hearted volunteers who turned into a staff member in 2018.

CFPA awarded Donna Alessi with the Nelda Lalicker Volunteer of the Year Award in 2018 to honor her longtime dedication to our mission and years of volunteerism.

Donna started volunteering for CFPA six years ago after her niece, a victim of domestic violence, was killed by her husband. “I felt like I had to do something,” Donna said. “I wanted to prevent this from happening to someone else.” When she saw CFPA’s Annual Duck Race being advertised on TV, she called and asked about volunteering.

“When I first started volunteering, I would come in once a week and sort through donations. I never really had much interaction with staff,” she said. “Then I was asked to cover the reception desk answering phones, and I enjoyed meeting the people that worked at CFPA.” Soon after, a part-time position opened up for reception and she jumped at the opportunity to work with the agency. Her favorite part of working at CFPA is “when you see a shelter client walk in and say they are so thankful for a safe place and a chance for a new start.”

Donna’s friends and family annually form a Duck Race team (named “Hope Does Shine”) using the initials of her niece to help sell ducks, but more importantly, spread awareness about CFPA. “When we started selling ducks, we were amazed at how many people were unaware of what CFPA had to offer,” Donna explained. “So we always try to offer as much information as possible to where the money goes after purchasing a duck. Getting that information out there is so important to us.” As the 2019 Duck Race season approaches, Donna reveals, “Our team would like to come up with a unique way to sell ducks that hasn’t been done before.”

Thank you Donna for being a wonderful volunteer and staff member. The agency is lucky to have your talents, passion, and drive working toward creating a safe and peaceful community!
